General Guidelines

- Manuscript Submission
- Manuscript Designation
- Manuscript Format
- Manuscript Style
- Review
- Authors Responsibilities
- Reprinting of Material

One MS Word document should be emailed to fionacollins@comcast.net. This manuscript should include photos, slides and/or figures.

Author identification. The author should include a letter providing his or her professional title, work affiliations, complete address, telephone and fax numbers, and e-mail address.

Originality and exclusivity. The editors will consider only articles that are original, have not been published elsewhere and have been submitted exclusively to the ADTS.

Adherence to guidelines. Manuscripts that do not conform to these guidelines will be returned to the author for reformatting without being put into the review process. Once the manuscript has been properly prepared and resubmitted, then it will be put into review.

Submission of revised articles. After the manuscript has gone through review, the editor makes a decision as to its disposition. If the editor’s decision is to accept the manuscript after minor revision are made, and the author chooses to make those revisions and resubmit the manuscript, the author should forward a revised manuscript to the ADTS. If the editor’s decision is “revise and resubmit” – in other words, that the manuscript requires major revisions – and the author chooses to make the revisions and resubmit the manuscript, the author should resubmit his manuscript to the ADTS. Such manuscripts go through the entire review process again.
Manuscript Designation
When published, manuscripts will be placed in one of the ADTS vehicles listed below. Authors should indicate the department for which they are submitting a manuscript, with the understanding that the editors may change vehicles.

Pennwell Publications – RDH Magazine, Dental Economics and Woman Dentist Journal

Patterson Dental Publications – OnTarget, Annual Catalog and others

Direct Mail – Sent to offices in the US & Canada via the postal service

Sales Force Distribution-
Distribution through the sales force of designated companies for continuing dental education is permitted.

ACPE guidelines and PennWell policies and procedures do not allow the distribution of documents or website access to continuing pharmacy education program by the sales force of a commercial interest or entity offering commercial support.

For dental education: Sales force distribution-Distribution through the sales force of designated companies is still permissible.

Manuscript Format

Length. Unless otherwise noted above, manuscripts should be 2500 -3500 words, exclusive of title page, acknowledgments, references and illustrations.

Authors. The people listed as authors should be those who contributed to the study (if applicable) and to the manuscript preparation. On a separate page, authors should be listed with their affiliations, their academic degrees and their scientific or clinical contributions to the paper.

Acknowledgements. Acknowledgments should be submitted on a separate page.

Illustrations. Are welcome, along with tables, charts, graphs or photographs. Space restrictions may not allow all illustrations to be included depending on the space constraints. Figures and tables should be numbered consecutively according to the order in which they are cited in the text. The ADTS will only accept digital files with at least 300dpi and in JPEG, TIFF or EPS format.

Manuscript Style
ADTS use the active voice for a clear, concise style. Headlines should be as brief as possible while conveying the point clearly. Short subheads should be used to help guide the reader through the article.

References. All published references should be cited in the text and numbered consecutively.
Citation in the reference list should follow this basic style:

Periodical

Book

Government publication

World Wide Web sit

Review
Peer review. Articles in ADTS publications are subject to a single-blinded peer review process: reviewers know the identity of a manuscript’s author(s), but authors do not know the identity of the reviewers. Reviewers keep their critiques strictly confidential.

Decision. Once the reviewers have completed their critiques, the editor examines their comments and makes a decision about the manuscript’s disposition: accept, accept with minor revisions, revise and resubmit, or reject.

Editing. ADTS reserves the right to edit manuscripts to ensure conciseness, clarity and stylistic consistency and to fit articles to available space. After accepted articles are edited, they are returned to the authors for review and comment before publication.

Authors’ Responsibilities
Copyright transfer. The ADTS owns the copyright for all editorial content published. A statement requiring copyright transfer from authors, signed by each author, must be submitted with the manuscript. The copyright transfer form is included in every Author Guideline Packet. Manuscripts submitted without the requisite Copyright Transfers will not be reviewed unless and until the ADTS’s Continuing Education Director receives a valid, executed ADTS Copyright Transfer Agreement from each author. If the manuscript is rejected by the ADTS, the ADTS Copyright Transfer Agreement will be returned to the Author(s). All accepted manuscripts and their accompanying illustrations become the permanent property of the ADTS and may not be published elsewhere in full or in part, in print or electronically, without written permission from the ADTS.
Reprint permission. If the manuscript contains any material, either text or illustrations, that is either exactly reproduced or adapted from a published source, the author is responsible for obtaining written permission from the published source, the author is responsible for obtaining written permission from the publisher of that source work- or the person or agency holding the copyright, if not the publisher- to reproduce the material in an ADTS vehicle. The ADTS will not reproduce such material without written permission.

Consent forms. Any patient who is clearly identified in the article (either in text or in photographs) must grant permission to use their image in the manuscript. It is the author’s responsibility to get written permission from such patients.

Disclosure
Each author must disclose any financial, economic or professional interests that may influence positions presented in the article. This disclosure will be published with the article. The conflict of interest form on which disclosure must be made is included in every Author Guideline Packet. The form must be signed by each author and submitted with the manuscript. Manuscripts submitted without the form will not be reviewed until the ADTS receives the signed form.

Reprinting of Material Published by the ADTS
All accepted manuscripts and their accompanying illustrations become the permanent property of the ADTS, and may not be published elsewhere in full or in part, in print or electronically, without written permission from the ADTS. Any party seeking individual or multiple copies of material published by the ADTS must request permission in writing from the ADTS. The request must state exactly what material is being borrowed, the issue in which it was published, the intended use of the material being borrowed, the name of the publication in which the reprinted material will appear (if applicable), the print quantity of distribution, the audience and whether the use is for financial gain.
